LOT 8817 - Beretta Model 1951 9mm Semi Auto Pistol

Description

Serial Number: 38302. Very good / Good condition for the age of the firearm. Bore is bright and shiny. Firearm has some handling wear and finish wear throughout. A few dings in the metal show bare metal, with some small patches of freckles / surface pitting. Imported by PW Arms, stamping found on the bottom of the trigger guard.

The Beretta Model 1951 has seen it's fair share of both military and police service throughout the world. Although never used by American forces, the 1951 was the start of what would become one of the worlds most prolific and iconic side arms. Manufactured from 1949-1980, the Model 1951 was replaced by the Beretta 92 and it's variants. It wouldn't be until 1985 that the US would adopt the Beretta M9, the military designation for the 92FS.

We believe this Beretta Model 1951 to be manufactured sometime in the late 60's or 70's. Featuring a 4.5" barrel, fixed sights, hammer fired, manual safety, and has black plastic grips with a lanyard loop. Comes with one magazine.

Serial Number: 38302, Barrel Length: 4.5"

Quantity: 1
